Description

Large Directoire Farmhouse Table in Solid Walnut - Late 18th Century. This large and authentic Directoire-era farmhouse table is crafted from solid walnut. It rests on four straight legs connected by a central stretcher, ensuring excellent stability. The table features three drawers, one in the front and one at each end, providing ample storage space, a characteristic of antique work tables. Its wide, reclaimed plank top displays a beautiful, warm patina acquired over time. The piece possesses a rustic and authentic charm, ideal for a kitchen, dining room, or country house. A beautiful, solid, and decorative piece of furniture, preserved in its original condition with its patina. Dimensions: Height: 76 cm, Length: 176 cm, Depth: 77.5 cm
