Description

A bold and sculptural centerpiece, this Italian Edra sofa from 2000 combines the brand's unmistakable style with a decidedly modern, mid-century aesthetic. Upholstered in vibrant red leather, it features a low, elongated silhouette that is both relaxed and architectural, instantly making it the focal point of any interior. The leather displays subtle signs of wear, evidence of careful and respectful aging. These discreet marks lend it a unique character without compromising its freshness or comfort. Edra's craftsmanship shines through in the suppleness of the upholstery, the fine stitching, and the sofa's soft, inviting curves. Renowned for its innovative approach to materials and ergonomics, Edra has long been recognized for its designs that blend artistic expression with everyday functionality. This
