Description

Oil on canvas depicting an oriental horseman riding through a desert landscape beneath a warm, golden sky. The deliberately minimalist composition highlights the nobility of the horse and the silent presence of the rider, whose face remains partially hidden beneath his hood. The contrast between the horse's dark silhouette and the ochre light of the sky creates an evocative atmosphere, typical of Orientalist painting of the second half of the 19th century. The stylized treatment of forms and the warm palette reinforce the impression of solitude and the vastness of the landscape. Please note: sold as is / found in an attic / unframed - unsigned
