Description

Rare and precious historical memoirs and anecdotes from the Court of France, during the favor of the Marquise de Pompadour, with twelve engravings made by her, under the King's supervision, on the principal events of her reign; a work preserved in the portfolios of Madame la Maréchale D, preceded by a treatise on social transactions after the subversion of a great empire, brought about by immorality and anarchy, by J.L. Soulavie the Elder, author of the historical memoirs of the reign of Louis XVI. One volume in octavo, full marbled calfskin, smooth spine, decorated with elegant gilt tools. In Paris, at Arthus Bertrand, bookseller, Quai des Augustins, No. 55. 1802. A fine copy, complete with all plates.
