Description

Murano Glass Vase in White Lattimo with Black Handles - Italy, 20th Century

Elegant decorative vase made of hand-blown glass in the Murano glassmaking tradition, dating from the second half of the 20th century. The body features a harmonious globular shape with a slender neck and a flared rim, crafted in refined white lattimo glass, known for its soft luminosity and slightly speckled surface typical of artisanal workmanship. The vase is enriched with two applied glossy black glass handles, shaped into elegant scrolls that create a striking contrast with the white body. This decorative detail reflects the aesthetic of post-war Venetian glass design. An object of fine aesthetic quality, perfect both as a decorative piece and for a collection of
