

Terracotta Study Of Crossed Hands

500 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Terracotta

Width : 30

Height : 16

Description

A powerful 19th-century terracotta sculpture featuring two crossed hands, rendered with exceptional anatomical precision. The modeling is remarkably detailed, capturing the delicate texture of the skin, veins, and joints. This piece likely served as an academic study or a devotional object, embodying a sense of serenity and timelessness. The warm, earthy patina highlights the sculptural volumes and provides a soul-stirring presence. Original wrought iron ring attached for wall hanging.

Dealer

Olivier Tosseri Antiquités

Decorative arts - Fine arts

Tel : +393806376776

Rome 00176