

Nevers Plate With A Chinese Fisherman, 18th Century

100 EUR

Period : 18th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Earthenware

Diameter : 23 cm

Description

We present this 18th-century Nevers plate with a central decoration of a Chinese man seated on a tree branch, pulling out a fish. This very fine plate is in good condition, although there is a crack starting at the rim and spreading towards the center (see photos). An old clip supports this crack on the back; it was applied by people who made house calls, known as plate menders.
