Description

Vintage floor lamp produced by Holmegaard in Denmark around 1970. The black lacquered metal structure rests on a weighted circular base. The stem is height-adjustable thanks to an integrated sliding mechanism, allowing the shade to be positioned as needed. The upper section forms an elegant arch from which a white opaline glass shade is suspended. The design is simple, functional, and typical of 1970s Danish design. The opaline glass diffuses a soft and even light. Adjustable height from 125 to 170 cm. Produced by Holmegaard, Denmark, circa 1970.
