Description

Elegant rolling table attributed to the Jansen house, in brass and varnished wood tops.This model has two trays with moving contours, bordered with an openwork brass gallery, resting on four thin feet, two of which are mounted on original wheels.The table is equipped with a decorative side handle making it easy to move, as well as an integrated circular bottle holder, typical of service or bar tables.The contrast between the golden brass and the wooden trays gives the whole a refined look, ideal for a classic interior, a living room or a bar area.General condition good with a nice patina of time.Note: the upper tray has slight cracks in the veneer due to wear and tear, visible in the photos, without affecting the solidity or charm of the room.
