Description

Description: An important set of four monumental garden urns, made in France in the 19th century. They combine cast iron vases with their original terracotta bases. Each base features a raised square platform, designed to perfectly support and hold the cast iron urn. The elegant proportions and robust materials make these pieces ideal for formal gardens, terraces, courtyards, or building entrances. The natural aging of the iron and terracotta gives them a beautiful patina, highlighting their historical character and authenticity. These imposing garden elements bear witness to the refinement of 19th-century French estate gardens, where decorative urns played an essential role in the design and ornamentation of outdoor spaces. Dimensions (each urn with its base): Height: 125
