Description

Compositions of floral garlands tied with a knot. Pair of oil paintings on canvas, signed lower left and framed with a natural wood frame. (Some scratches, rubbing, and small losses). French painter specializing in floral compositions and still lifes. She was born in 1858 in Hamburg and died in 1936 in Saint-Benin-d'Azy. She signed her works E. Martin des Amoignes, generally in the lower left corner of her canvases. Her artistic career is in the tradition of 19th and early 20th-century French painters, with a particular emphasis on bouquets and floral compositions. She is known for her bouquets of roses, peonies, and dahlias, often displayed on marble tables or in vases, and for her compositions of floral garlands tied with a knot. Her works are characterized by a delicate realism and attention
