Description

Antique Heubach Koppelsdorf Doll 342.6 - Porcelain Head - Germany, circa 1900 - Sleeping Blue Eyes - 50 cm. Antique German collectible doll with a porcelain head marked in relief "Heubach Koppelsdorf 342.6 Germany," made in the early 20th century, circa 1900. A classic model from the German manufacturer Heubach Koppelsdorf, highly prized for the delicate features and the quality of the animated eyes. The doll has beautiful sleeping blue glass eyes, an open mouth with teeth, unpierced ears, and an original dark brown natural hair wig. She is mounted on an antique articulated body, with her original clothing including a dress, underdress, and stockings. One finger is broken on one hand, a defect visible in the photos; otherwise, she is in good overall condition for a doll over 100 years
