Description

Terracotta Kitten - Marguerite Monnot - Art Deco Animal Sculpture Circa 1930 Marguerite Monnot (1903-1961) Kitten - Terracotta - Circa 1930 A charming terracotta animal sculpture with a natural patina depicting a reclining kitten, created by the French sculptor Marguerite Monnot around 1930. The artist sensitively captures the peaceful attitude of the animal, shown in a natural pose. The supple and lifelike modeling testifies to careful observation and reflects an approach that is both realistic and slightly impressionistic, characteristic of 20th-century animal sculpture. A French sculptor active in the first half of the 20th century, Marguerite Monnot is known for her depictions of domestic animals, particularly dogs and cats, but also for some human figures marked by the Art Deco aesthetic.
