

19th Century Victorian Period Walnut Parquetry Tilt-top Table

2 800 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Walnut

Width : 71

Height : 75

Depth : 62

Description

Superb Quality 19th-Century Victorian Period Walnut Parquetry Tilt-Top Occasional Table
A magnificent 19th-century Victorian period walnut tilt-top occasional table of superb quality, dating from around 1860. The oblong octagonal top has molded and banded edges, with a striking parquetry center inlaid in a contrasting geometric design. The top is raised on a finely turned and carved pedestal with four splayed carved legs, richly decorated with floral relief carving and a central turned finial to the underside. A snap-release tilt mechanism allows the top to be folded upright, making it practical both for use and for display. Exquisitely detailed and presented in immaculate condition, this table retains its entirely original color and patina, with a deep polish and warm, characterful glow that

Dealer

Anthony Short Antiques

18C & 19C Fine Period Antiques, Decorative Furniture & Works of Art

Tel : 00 44 7595603348

Mobile : 00 44 7595603348

Market Square

Petworth GU28 0AH

only well preserved 19th century furniture develops over time. Structurally sound and in excellent original order throughout, it is a piece of clear, top tier Victorian craftsmanship. Its generous surface is ideal for displaying lamps, books, art objects or floral arrangements, while the sculptural base ensures it looks impressive from every angle. Combining originality, elegance and functionality, this Victorian walnut parquetry tilt-top table is a true statement piece for any interior that appreciates fine 19th century craftsmanship and timeless style.