PROANTIC
LE PLUS BEAU CATALOGUE D'ANTIQUITES

Fishing Rod With A Mechanism - Bamboo And Nickel Silver - Late 19th Century

470 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Solid wood

Length : 93cm

Height : 3.80m

Description

Late 19th Century Bamboo and Nickel Silver Folding Rod - A rare late 19th-century folding rod designed to adapt to various traditional fishing techniques. This ingenious model allows for fishing for frogs, minnows, or gudgeon, thanks to its different sections and modular design. The rod is made of bamboo, a material favored for its flexibility and strength, and is adorned with nickel silver fittings, adding both solidity and elegance. The metal ferrules and ferrules demonstrate the meticulous craftsmanship characteristic of quality fishing accessories produced in the late 19th century. It consists of several sections allowing for easy assembly and disassembly, with a length of approximately 93 cm when folded, extending to nearly 4 meters when fully extended, offering

Dealer

La Musardière

Antiquités

Mobile : 0695665390

5 place du champ de foire

Jonzac 17500

ample reach for different fishing techniques. This type of versatile rod was particularly popular with river fishermen at the end of the 19th century and is now a sought-after collector's item, prized by both enthusiasts of antique fishing memorabilia and collectors of curiosities. Period: late 19th century Materials: bamboo and nickel silver fittings Type: multi-purpose fishing rod (frog, minnow, gudgeon) Closed length: 93 cm Extended length: approximately 4 m Condition: good condition A beautiful collector's item, a testament to the craftsmanship and ingenuity of fishing tackle from the late 19th century.