

Henry Robert Sundial, Known As A Shepherd's Sundial, Early 19th Century, Calais, Dover, Dresden, C

380 EUR

Signature : Henry Robert

Period : 19th century

Condition : Etat d'usage

Height : 12 cm

Description

Henry Robert sundial, also known as a shepherd's dial, dating from the early 19th century. Marked: latitude of Calais, Dover, Dresden, approximately 51°. Henry-Robert, clockmaker, Palais Royal, No. 164. Includes corresponding altitude scales. Folding gnomon. Instructions for use: Remove the stopper, open the pointer, replace the stopper by turning it so that the open pointer is above the date, suspend in the sun. The shadow of the pointer will follow the date line, and its tip will indicate the hour by the curved line it reaches. The different months of the year are also indicated. Height when closed: 12 cm.

Dealer

Claire de Wacquant

Antiquaire généraliste

Mobile : 0687032922

31 rue Général de Gaulle

Vermonton 89270