Description

Magnificent and rare Empire period console table with caryatids, retaining its original white marble top. The marble is not broken, only has a few minor chips, but these are not noticeable. The caryatids are entirely made of richly carved wood, demonstrating very high-quality craftsmanship. A label stamped on the top beneath the marble is signed "Mr. Couchet, Cabinetmaker, Rue aux Fèvres, Châlons-sur-Saône, Saône-et-Loire." Fully restored by our cabinetmaking workshop, it is in perfect condition (see photos), with only minor signs of wear consistent with age. It comes from a bourgeois home. Marble top dimensions: Length 1.43m, Depth 46cm, Height 1.035m, Marble top thickness 2.5cm
