Description

An iconic set of 1970s design. This superb set of four chairs was produced by the renowned German manufacturer Wilkhahn, an absolute benchmark in ergonomics and architect-designed furniture. This is the highly sought-after model 231/5, which perfectly embodies the "Space Age" aesthetic of the era. Each seat consists of a black composite back shell, contrasting beautifully with a heathered fabric upholstery in a particularly vibrant and luminous orange. The set rests on a heavy, five-star central base made of solid cast aluminum, ensuring perfect stability and exceptional durability. Extremely comfortable, these chairs, with their bold and timeless design, will find their perfect place around a contemporary dining table or in a refined workspace. the set is guaranteed by the presence of the original label and the manufacturer's logo engraved under the seats. Condition and details: Very good condition. This set of four chairs is in very good overall condition. The original orange fabric has been carefully preserved: it is clean, taut, and retains its vibrant color. The black shells are sound. As these are authentic vintage pieces, there are normal scratches from use and a natural patina on the aluminum legs, reflecting their history without detracting from their structural beauty.
