Description

A charming and luminous view of Avignon depicting the Porte Saint-Lazare, enlivened by figures, in an atmosphere typical of Provence at the beginning of the 20th century. The composition, particularly well-balanced, is organized around a light-filled passageway, framed by delicate vegetation casting beautiful shadows. The foreground, structured by vertical elements, gives depth and rhythm to the whole. The artist offers a sensitive and vibrant vision, with a harmonious palette of greens, ochres, and bluish grays, perfectly conveying the gentle southern atmosphere. Oil on canvas, signed lower left, dated 1901, and located "Porte St Lazare - Avignon." An old label from an Avignon paint merchant is present on the back, reinforcing the work's local connection.
