Description

A curved buffet with three doors, crafted in mahogany and kingwood marquetry, featuring a Japanese lacquer panel on the central door depicting a lively scene. The side and intermediate uprights are adorned with brass fluting. It boasts a magnificent Sarrancolin marble top with a double-beveled molding. The interior is beautifully veneered in mahogany with drawers in the upper section and shelves. The frame is solid oak. A superb piece of craftsmanship, stamped by the Soubrier firm in Paris - CIRCA 1890. In very good condition, fully restored by our workshop, finished with a natural French polish.
