

Tank Ring In Rose Gold, Platinum And Rose-cut Diamonds Totaling 0.60 Carats, Circa 1940

2 900 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Gold

Description

Emblematic of the 1940s, this Tank ring is crafted in rose gold and platinum, a characteristic combination of this era where bold volumes and architectural lines defined the style. Its structured setting is adorned with rose-cut diamonds totaling approximately 0.60 carats, lending a delicate, subtly powdery sparkle that underscores the ring's graphic strength. A jewel of character, reflecting the jewelry-making expertise of the mid-20th century, it combines aesthetic power with timeless elegance.

Dealer

Dael et Grau

Bijoux anciens

Tel : 03 20 39 27 91

3-5 rue Lepelletier

Lille 59800