Description

Watercolor and ink wash depicting a humorous scene of dogs pulling a light vehicle. The drawing displays precise pen work combined with watercolor highlights, in a graphic style characteristic of 19th-century genre scenes. The work is signed lower left "Charles Hutin" (reading to be confirmed). A work from the 19th-century French school. It is in an old frame with a label on the back from the dealer Daems-Schoy, Brussels (Montagne de la Cour), attesting to a long-standing commercial presence.
