Description

Set of 6 Antique Black-Stained Pine Frames - Late 19th Century. Charming set of six black-stained pine frames, dating from the late 19th century. Their simple lines are enhanced by molded corner decoration with raised square rosettes and stylized floral motifs in a neoclassical style. They contain 18th-century engravings, now quite deteriorated (foxing, significant wear), but retaining a certain decorative charm. These prints can be easily replaced to suit your taste, making this set an excellent base for a personalized wall display. The frames themselves are in good structural condition except for two missing rosettes. Perfect for a series of wall decorations, in the style of a cabinet of curiosities or country house.
