

Molded Cup Glass With Rice Grain And Tab Shapes On A Grooved Hollow Stem. 18th Century

350 EUR

Period : 18th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Glass

Diameter : 6,5 cm

Height : 12,1 cm

Description

A blown glass fern vase, the conical bowl decorated with partially molded rice grains and tabs, resting on a hollow stem with a fluted baluster. The round foot is finely hemmed. First half of the 18th century. Very good condition, with some fine air bubbles in the glass. The foot is slightly uneven, and the glass has a slight wobble. Height: 12.1 cm - Diameter of bowl: 6.5 cm - Diameter of foot: 6 cm

Dealer

Antiquités JD

Verrerie ancienne, Curiosités, Objets de vitrine & Art populaire

Mobile : +33 6 11 61 19 79

avenue de la République

Paris 75011