Description

A superb, tall, slender Art Nouveau stoneware vase, signed "Grès Mougin Nancy". This piece is distinguished by its elegant silhouette and harmonious composition, evoking a bud ready to burst into bloom. The naturalistic decoration, typical of Art Nouveau, unfolds delicately in the upper section, while the entire vase is enhanced by a refined glaze with subtle and nuanced shades: sand, warm beige, deep blue, and very pale green. Light crystallized glaze effects enrich the surface, adding depth and a touch of poetry. The balance of forms and colors gives this vase a presence that is both gentle and striking, allowing it to integrate elegantly into any type of interior, classic or contemporary. The piece is signed "Grès Mougin Nancy" on the base and also bears several workshop numbers. Origin: France.
