Description

An elegant silvered bronze centerpiece bowl signed Victor Saglier, showcasing remarkable Rococo craftsmanship. Exquisitely executed, this piece is distinguished by its richly animated decoration: asymmetrical scrolls, foliate tendrils, and delicately chiseled cartouches enliven the whole with a vibrant decorative energy, typical of the Louis XV style revisited in the 19th century. The bowl has an elongated shape with upturned ends, resting on an openwork base with scrolls, giving the object both visual lightness and a sculptural presence. The cartouche decoration, subtly framed by foliage, adds a further touch of elegance. The silvered bronze surface shows slight wear consistent with its age, revealing in places a soft and authentic patina, a testament to its age and history. Dimensions: Length: 41 cm
