Brass Trinket Tray Decorated With Three Elephants And A Translucent Alabaster Bowl - Circa 1950

130 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Alabaster

Length : 22

Width : 17

Height : 12

Description

A charming trinket tray consisting of a patinated brass tripod adorned with three stylized elephants supporting a removable alabaster bowl. The stone, of superb quality, reveals an intense honey-colored translucency when exposed to light. The rough-cut work on the reverse contrasts with the polished bowl, offering an exotic and organic design. A delightful object in perfect condition, ideal for a "Hollywood Regency" style decor or perhaps as a soap dish in a bathroom.
