Description

Oak wardrobe by Guillerme and Chambron, 1950s. This oak wardrobe, attributed to Guillerme and Chambron (1950s), boasts a warm and highly architectural aesthetic. Its beautiful asymmetrical composition features a vertical tambour door on the left and a molded panel front on the right, creating a geometric rhythm. The oak is meticulously crafted with clean joinery, typical of post-war French furniture. Its versatile storage format makes it ideal as a wardrobe, linen closet, or office cabinet, offering a strong presence without being bulky. A decorative and functional piece, it integrates equally well into mid-century or contemporary interiors. Guillerme & Chambron, a leading French design duo of the 1950s and 60s, are flagship manufacturers of Votre Maison. They are renowned for their solid
