Description

The superb "Amazonas" sofa and armchairs, designed by Brazilian designer Jean Gillon and produced by Italma WoodArt in the 1960s, are a stunning addition to the collection. This iconic series exemplifies Gillon's unique style, blending architectural structure with enveloping comfort. Crafted from jacaranda wood (Brazilian rosewood), the set is distinguished by its powerful, organic lines and the designer's signature use of mesh support, which provides both visual lightness and a flexible seating experience. The "Amazonas" model evokes the spirit of Brazilian modernist design: a subtle alliance between nature, craftsmanship, and innovation. The generous proportions and deep seats make this furniture as sculptural as it is comfortable, perfectly suited to a contemporary,
