

Flemish School - Genre Scene, 19th Century

450 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Description

Oil on panel depicting a genre scene of an interior, attributed to the 19th-century Flemish school. The composition shows a family scene in a modest home: a mother leaning over a cradle, a child at her side, while a man stands busy with a household chore. The whole is rendered with a supple touch and a warm palette of brown and gold tones. This type of subject is in keeping with the 19th-century Flemish tradition, inspired by scenes of everyday life. Painting on antique panel. Dimensions: Panel: 42 x 39 cm
