

Antique Necklace With Two Hearts, In The Language Of Love

950 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Gold

Length : 41cm

Description

Antique jewelry, a symbol of love, depicting two intertwined hearts. Belle Époque necklace in 18-karat gold set with delicate pearls. The two hearts are surmounted by a Diadem and suspended from a small Clover. The chain is a fine jaseron chain. A piece of jewelry that expresses love! It also represents a deep bond between two people, such as a mother and daughter, sisters, friends, etc. Dates circa 1900/1910. Remember that buying antique jewelry is a precious investment and a matter of passion, an emotional connection. It's the pleasure of discovering a magnificent piece, perhaps a century old, and owning a unique work of art. One tiny pearl is missing, but it is barely noticeable. Length 41 cm. Illegible hallmark, tests indicating it is 18-karat gold. Delivered with a
