Description

Superb antique 19th-century travel writing case in precious Macassar ebony, richly inlaid with mother-of-pearl and brass. The lid opens to reveal a refined interior lined with antique leather (though not original). It also displays several storage compartments, some with accessories (included): inkwells with silver-plated metal lids, pen holders and nibs, wax seals, and compartments for letters and correspondence. The lid features meticulous decoration with inlays and a central cartouche, characteristic of high-quality writing cases. The lock is functional. The wood has a beautiful patina. Its dimensions in cm: 40 x 25 x 15 (depth when open 51). This item is also available for viewing in my shop in Morbihan, southern Brittany, where you can collect it if you wish.
