Description

Ring signed ESTROSIA, a Milanese designer, in 925 sterling silver (swan hallmark). This company, founded in 1996, produces artistic pieces, blending precious and unusual, even unexpected, materials... here, we find materials commonly used in fine jewelry, such as coral and pearls, adorned, in contrast, with glittery resin... the appeal of each piece lies in its pure aesthetic, the expression of unique, handcrafted creations. The emphasis is on volume and color. And indeed, we are presented with a beautifully proportioned sphere ring. The coral and pearls lend a baroque aesthetic and create the organic lines of the whole. Coral, with its pronounced red color, gives this ring strength and character. Gross weight: 27.74 g. Ring size: 50 according to measurement, but the ring actually fits a size 54 -

no resizing (current diameter 1.72 cm / US size 7). Its very large sphere would have distorted the ring size; for this reason, and for optimal comfort, the ring has been filled with glitter resin, acting as a socket. Condition: imperceptible micro-scratches, natural imperfections in the coral due to its organic composition.
