Description

Large and beautiful bronze bowl, very typical of the Art Deco period and movement, depicting a scene from mythology with Apollo's horses. The piece bears the signature of Max Le Verrier (1891-1973) on the back, a renowned artist and emblematic figure of the Art Deco movement in France. He is known primarily for his bronze sculptures, having understood the spirit of his era and left a lasting mark on art history. Note: the artist explored this theme in various sizes and patinas, which explains the wide range of prices, depending on the patina and quality of the piece. A record of EUR1500 for this particular bowl was set in Lyon in 2025 (see last photo). Size (diameter): 33.5 cm - Weight (approx.): 2.9 kg - Please ask for more photos if needed.
