Description

Portrait of Philippe Frédéric Stéphan, known as "Fritz" (1881-1961), Alsatian dialect poet and important regional cultural figure in Alsace. Oil on canvas, signed JPGross, regional or academic artist. On the back of the canvas, "32 rue des Juifs, Strasbourg 67000." This address corresponds to the heart of Strasbourg's Grande Île, the historic center. Around 1900, this district was home to numerous workshops and artists. The work originated from an independent Strasbourg workshop dating from the early 20th century, connected to the local Alsatian cultural scene. A commemorative or honorary portrait in the "traditional realism" style.
