Description

Cartier, Trinity Ring Classic Model, 5 Diamonds Trinity ring by Maison Cartier, Classic model enhanced with five diamonds, composed of three interlaced bands in 18k tricolor gold: yellow gold, white gold, and rose gold. The central band, in white gold, is set with five round brilliant-cut diamonds arranged in a line. Their sparkle subtly punctuates the ring without detracting from the clarity of the original design. The two side bands, in yellow and rose gold, are smooth and polished. Signed and numbered on the rose gold band. A creation by Maison Cartier. Contemporary version, likely dating from around 2018, identifiable by the width of the bands (3.5 mm), which is slightly greater than current productions (3.2 mm). Technical characteristics Ring size: 55 -- engraved inside, not resizable Band width: 3.5

overall condition. Some light surface scratches, inevitable on a worn piece, with no impact on the aesthetics or the security of the settings. Note: The bands on this model measure 3.5 mm in width, compared to 3.2 mm for versions currently sold in boutiques. This difference, due to the gradual evolution of the collections as a result of rising gold prices, gives this ring a slightly more pronounced presence on the finger than recent productions.
