Description

Black moulded frame with faux tortoiseshell decoration, circa 1900 - 66.5 x 51 cm

Moulded wooden frame with a blackened finish, circa 1900, featuring panels imitating tortoiseshell, in the taste of late 19th-century Napoléon III-inspired production.

The design plays on a refined contrast between the deep black moulding and the faux tortoiseshell elements, giving the frame a structured and decorative presence. The rhythmic, architectural profile recalls cabinet frames intended for portraits or works on paper.

Decorative and versatile, suitable for drawings, portraits, or small paintings. Can also be used
