Description

Large Art Nouveau bronze vase signed P. Roussel - Decor of nymphs and putto. Elegant and rare bronze vase with nuanced brown patina, signed P. Roussel, from the late 19th - early 20th century, in the purest Art Nouveau spirit. This model of beautiful quality has a finely chiselled relief decor, representing graceful female nymphs evolving in a landscape of reeds, one of which plays the flute, creating a poetic and musical scene. The whole is enriched with the presence of a putto (small winged angel), delicately sculpted, bringing a symbolic and dreamlike dimension to the composition. The body of the vase, treated as a stylised plant trunk, is surmounted by a leaf-shaped flared neck and flanked by two winding handles evoking natural stems, characteristic of the Art Nouveau movement. work rests on a veined red marble base, elegantly moulded, reinforcing the contrast and refinement of the whole. Very good general condition, beautiful old patina. Discreet wear and tear, without aesthetic alteration. Very beautiful decorative piece, both sensual and poetic, typical of Art Nouveau aesthetics, ideal for collector or refined interior.
