Description

One of Claude Agier-Molinari's emblematic forms: the pomegranate. This box is distinguished by its lid surmounted by a delicate handle that seems almost to float in the air, bringing lightness and poetry to the whole. The shapes are soft and rounded, with beautiful variations in texture. Shades of bronze blend with a deep blue, evoking subtly solidified lava. Inside, a completely different world unfolds--a dazzling white, and, at the bottom, bluish reflections create the illusion of an aquatic surface. A piece with a strong presence, both organic and sculptural, that captures the light and invites both the eye and the touch. PIECE NO. 25-0913 "METAL BLUE"
