Description

Elegant Art Nouveau frame dating from the early 20th century, representing an interesting transition toward early Art Deco. Made entirely of walnut, it features a refined floral decoration developed along the corners and sides, with flowing naturalistic lines typical of Art Nouveau, already structured with a more geometric and modern sensitivity. The decorative motif, inspired by French floral design, recalls the work of Émile Gallé and the Nancy school, with a balanced and elegant stylization. The decoration is not inlaid but carved directly into the wood and enhanced with a dark patina, giving depth and fine detail to the design. Inner edge finished with a thin gilt band. A high-quality piece, understated yet highly decorative, ideal for refined interiors or to enhance paintings and
