Description

Painting by Mattia Traverso, "The Virgin and Child." This early 20th-century painting by Mattia Traverso depicts the Virgin and Child in an architectural composition inspired by 18th-century religious tapestries. The central figure, painted with great delicacy, is framed by a rich trompe-l'oeil structure combining columns, gilded sculpted elements, and a purple background with lily motifs. On either side, two large sculpted angels appear to support the whole, lending a majestic depth to the scene. The entire composition is surrounded by a tempera border adorned with garlands of flowers and ribbons. Mattia Traverso, born in Genoa in 1885 and died in 1956, was a highly talented Italian painter renowned for his exceptional technical mastery and his taste for grandly decorated classical
