Description

Elegant sideboard in walnut wood, characterized by a solid and harmonious line. The piece of furniture rests on a shaped base. The front is marked by two large central doors, embellished with molded panels with a mixtilinear profile. The doors are equipped with bronze knobs. On the sides, two vertical elements frame the central body, enriched with refined floral carvings and ornamental motifs in relief. The rounded corners and the lateral columns give elegance and visual solidity to the whole. The upper floor, large and linear, has a molded edge. Veneto, 19th century
