

Contemporary Ovoid Vase Signed Ada Loumani

980 EUR

Signature : ADA LOUMANI

Period : 20th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Glass

Width : 24

Height : 30 cm

Description

Hello, Magnificent contemporary ovoid vase by glass artist Ada Loumani. This vase is ovoid in shape. Its dominant color is a blue tending towards turquoise, which appears to have a slight patina or aged effect. Organic patterns, in shades of dark purple, brown, and orange, extend across its entire surface. These patterns resemble stains or drips, some elongating like filaments. The overall effect is one of movement and depth. A French glass artist, born in 1959, known for creating magnificent art glass vases. He comes from a family of glassmakers and perpetuates this tradition in his workshop near Nice. Loumani specializes in glassblowing using a technique called the "Grail tradition." This method involves successive hot and cold processes to create deep effects within the glass, allowing him to capture

Dealer

Galerie Particulière antiquités

Généraliste

Mobile : 0612511221

3 rue Bailleul

Fresnay-sur-Sarthe 72130

paints within the material and experiment with colors. o "Living Heritage Company" Label: In 2007, his work earned him the prestigious French "Living Heritage Company" label, recognizing the quality of his creations and French craftsmanship. o World Exhibitions: His work has gained international recognition, and he has exhibited in numerous countries, including the United States, Belgium, Algeria, Russia, Germany, and of course, France.