Description

Large Genoese chandelier, in gilded wood and crystal pendants, in elegantly intertwined garlands, nuanced in color with the blue crystal cabochons and Murano glass beads on the arms. The central wooden shaft is gilded, the 8 light arms are made of iron. Genoese chandeliers are typical of this Italian region and can be found in all the palaces of Genoa. They also come in various styles with colored pendants, Murano glass beads, and more or less complex "lacing" of crystal chains. Chic, they integrate equally well into a classic or contemporary interior.

Chandelier in its current condition: the pendants are complete, but some gilding is missing (see photos). The hanging bracket has been modified. Rewiring will be required. Height 135 cm.

Diameter approx. 95 cm.
