Description

A beautiful object, likely a fragment of an architectural sculpture from the Grand Siècle (17th century), a wood panel or altar piece, secular or religious, which escaped destruction. This sculpture, depicting the face of a child-king or an archangel, crafted by a master sculptor, was placed on a base made by his craftsmen; it is a beautiful sight. Wood, once stripped, is fruitwood with very few veins, pear or apple, and free of wormholes. It is in its original, as-discovered condition, as seen in our photos. (A few small locks of hair are missing.) Dimensions: 26cm x 14cm x 9cm. Weight: 0.5kg. Available for immediate purchase, payable by credit card or PayPal. - eclectic - We are not experts, but we have been in the business for over 50 years. Hassle-free refund in case of disappointment.
