Description

Earthenware vinegar cruet - Late 18th, Early 19th century. Set in blue monochrome, see photos. It seems to me that the two jugs are small in proportion to the stand; this could be explained by a later addition, especially since the decorative styles appear different. These pieces can be separated for two distinct displays. Their origins need to be identified. The set is in good condition. No repairs. Note a slight crack on one jug and a few tiny chips. Stand length 15.5 cm, width 10 cm. Jug height 10.5 cm
