Description

An elegant and rare pair of Limoges porcelain vases, dating from the Art Nouveau period and produced by the William Guérin factory (late 19th - early 20th century). These pieces are distinguished by their slender silhouette and sinuous lines, typical of the style, embellished with finely gilded applied side handles. The exquisitely detailed decoration unfolds against a deep cobalt blue background, highlighting naturalistic scenes of herons in subtle tones. The flared neck, with its undulating rim, is adorned with a delicate garland of enameled gold, adding a further touch of refinement. The pair exhibits a beautiful homogeneity and is in excellent condition, with a fresh and luminous gilding.
