Description

A beautiful lyr-shaped clock in white Carrara marble with rich gilt bronze ornamentation. The bronze mounts are finely chased and gilded. The white enamel dial features black enamel Arabic numerals and garlands of flowers. The lyra clock is surmounted by a radiant neoclassical mask from which emerges a bronze pendulum symbolizing the strings of a lyre, itself connected to a rhinestone cord. Napoleon III period ; Louis XVI style , circa 1860-1870. The lyra clock is in working order and of fine quality. Height 57 cm
