Description

View of a Fountain (Venice), ink and brown wash, signed André Maire (1898-1984), dated 1925 A beautiful drawing by André Maire depicting a scene of daily life around the famous sculpted well curb in the Campo Santi Giovanni e Paolo in Venice. The artist vigorously captures the bustle of the campo with a sense of movement, while also highlighting the rich decoration of the well curb. A work full of character, typical of Maire's vision of Mediterranean cities. André Maire (1898-1984) French painter and draftsman, a great traveler, and a student of Émile Bernard. His work is distinguished by landscapes and scenes of daily life captured in Indochina, Africa, and the Mediterranean, executed with a powerful sense of composition, movement, and wash. 52 x 44 cm
