

Pair Of 19th Century Oak And Woven Leather Armchairs

3 200 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Oak

Width : 58

Height : 100

Depth : 58

Description

Very Decorative Pair of 19th-Century Oak and Woven Leather Armchairs A very handsome pair of late 19th-century Carolean revival oak and woven leather carver armchairs, combining strong architectural presence with great decorative appeal. Each chair features a rectangular woven leather lattice back, secured with brass studwork and set above a row of turned spindle gallery. The generous seat, also in woven leather lattice within a studded frame, is complemented by beautifully carved, shaped downswept scrolling arms on turned supports. The chairs stand on turned legs united by square stretchers and terminating in bun feet, with a wonderfully decorative, country-house feel. All the leather is original, in excellent condition, and retains a rich, supple appearance. The oak frames

Dealer

Anthony Short Antiques

18C & 19C Fine Period Antiques, Decorative Furniture & Works of Art

Tel : 00 44 7595603348

Mobile : 00 44 7595603348

Market Square

Petworth GU28 0AH

display striking grain, warm color and a pleasant, mellow patina, the whole set in very good original order with no damage or repairs. These armchairs would sit beautifully in a hallway, library, sitting room or study, where they offer both comfort and visual impact. Highly decorative yet robust and functional, they make a real focal point and a characterful addition to any traditional or contemporary interior. Seat height is 46 cm.